Is It Time to Combine Police Departments orough, Township?

ne time right for the uning bodies of Princeton orough and Princeton Township to discuss combining their separate police departments into one force? Borough Councilman Mark Freda thinks it is. He has written a memo to each member of Borough Council and Township Committee asking their reaction to combining the two departments to create one police force that would serve both Princetons.

"This is something worth looking at," said Mr. Freda, who also serves as Borough police commissioner. "We might be able to provide better service and less duplication of efforts."

He added that a combined force could be more effective in dealing with problems such as drug enforcement, and in working with the safe neighborhoods program.

So far, Mr. Freda has received only a few responses from members of the govern-

Rape, Armed Robbery, Harassment Mark Violent Princeton Crime Week

Crime in Princeton last week was just as violent as the weather.

In the Township, a 24-year-old woman who accepted a ride from a stranger was raped near the Princeton Medical Center. During last week's storm, a 36-year-old Township man was robbed at gunpoint of $480 in the Princeton Shopping Center lot; two 15-year-old girls were harassed and chased at night by the driver of a red sedan at the Riverside School playground; and three young girls, 9 to 14, were the victims of indecent exposure by a man whom Township police say resembles the suspect who has been exposing himself in recent years near the Institute for Advanced Study woods.

In the Borough, police this week seized from two Trenton teenagers what Capt. Thomas Michaud described as "probably the largest quantity of crack cocaine we've encountered in recent memory." Estimated street value: $7.000 (see story, page 5).

It cost a Witherspoon Street resident $550 to learn that it doesn't pay to give a ride, however short, to strangers, and the Borough also had its own case of lewdness.

The rape victim was standing on Witherspoon Street at 1:30 Sunday morning, according to Lt. Mario Musso, when the driver of a large American car stopped and talked to her. The driver, described as an Hispanic male, asked if she wanted to go for a ride. The victim entered the car and it drove off to an area near the Princeton Medical Center.

Immediately after, the driver locked the doors. Alarm-

Lower Cost Alternative Proposed For Addition to the Public Library

"I for one am very excited about an alternative to the $9.4 million plan," Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund told two representatives of the Public Library who had come to last week's Council meeting to discuss the library's plans for expansion.

In the fall of last year, The Citizens' Advisory Committee on Facilities recommended a $9.4 million expansion of the library. This would include a third story atop the present building and an addition to the side, into the Park and Shop lot. The enlarged facility would generate about a $500,000 increase in operating costs.

"The $9.4 million is not sacred," said Susan Annich, president of the library board of trustees. "Whether we expand to the tune of $9.4 million, we must expand. We need to work together to know how to do it."

Library Director Jacqueline Thresher suggested that the work could be scaled back by not building the side addition, moving the air conditioning and heating system from the second floor, and adding a third floor. This, she said, would alleviate the library's immediate problem of overcrowding.

Ms. Thresher said she guessed the cost to do this would be about $3 million. Additional annual operating costs would run in the neighborhood of $100,000.

No matter what the cost of the expansion, it was clear that, in this period of economic uncertainty and heightened demands on the taxpayer, a significant sum of money would need to be raised privately. Ms. Annich said the Friends of the Library has pledged up to $70,000, but that the group did not do major capital fund raising.

She added that a panel of fund-raising experts has been formed to begin the process of finding out whether the library can count on raising private monies.

The group is beginning to talk to different consultants about the possibility of a feasibility study that would attempt to get an idea of what kind of private dollars could be raised in the community.

The study would cost about $25,000 and would be geared to a December completion, in

Dodging Violent Storms Becoming Way of Life For Area Residents

A one-two punch hit the Princeton area when major storms pummeled the region on Thursday and Monday afternoons. They came on the heel of a violent storm on June 19, which brought heavy rains and the downing of huge trees, largely in Jugtown.

Thursday's storm will probably be best remembered for a power outage that darkened Central Business District stores and many homes from about 3:30 to about 7:30 p.m.

Borough Hall lost its power and then discovered the Police Department's emergency generator wasn't working. Before anarchy could set in, Borough Engineer Carl Peters got the generator going with a battery he borrowed from a car in the Borough Hall parking lot.

Police fanned out into major Borough intersections, where traffic signals had stopped working. They kept things going until the power returned.

Reports from the highway were less sanguine. There, motorists — sans traffic signals — chose to forge ahead along Route 1. When cars on the side roads finally broke through, drivers also kept on going.

COMMON SIGHT AFTER STORM: Toppled trees and fallen limbs were a familiar sight in communities surrounding Princeton following Thursday's violent thunderstorm. This is just the top portion of a tall fir tree that landed on a side roof of a home on Eglantine Avenue in Pennington.

Storms

"The public kept using the library, assuming we would he open, and we were," said Sue-Rock of the Public Library. People settled down to read hy flashfight to the accompaniment of heavy winds, rain, and thunder booming madly off the skylight, "It sounded like the world was coming to an end," she said.

The skylight, however, was what made it possible to see, and people sat under it to read in what Ms. Rock said she considered dubions fight. The computers were out, but librarians reverted to a manual system of three weeks was unusual. for return and cheek-out

"The hospital managed very well," said Princeton Medical Center Spokeswoman Jane Kerney, even though one of the three emergency generators went down for about 20 minutes. Since all equipment has a manual mode, it was used in that mode until the generator was repaired.

Two surgeries were being completed when the power outage began. They were finished by the light of batterypacked lanterns.

Chuck Simone of Hulit's had picked Thursday to start his sale of men's shoes. He stayed at the store until about 6, waiting for the power to return, but finally gave up and went

At Princeton Army-Navy, which also started a sale that day, Mike Bonin reported that power came back around 7 p.m. But at his home in Lawrence Township, it was dark until the early morning hours.

The Thursday storm reserved its strongest punch for the area south of Princeton, including Ewing, Pennington, Lawrenceville, and Hamilton. Damage to trees and buildings in Mercer County Park alone was estimated at $100,000.

In Lawrence, a young woman sat in a friend's home and watched a neighbor's screened-in porch get picked up by the wind, tossed about, and disintegrate in the air. "It looked like The Wizard of Oz, she said.

By contrast, Monday's storm was less devastating, although Wires toppled on Snowden Lane and Sycamore Lanc; wires and limbs were both down on Random Road. But there was no need to borrow another car battery at Borough Police headquarters - the power there only blipped.

The study would attempt to determine the level of private contributions that a capital campaign by the library might expect to receive.

'I don't know of any library building built within the past 15 years that wasn't a public/private partnership, said Ms. Thresher.

Councilman Mark Freda often casts a jaundiced eye on having outside consultants brought in to study issues. He wondered whether one spends $20,000 or $25,000 to study whether money could be raised or just hires someone at $20,000 or $25,000 to raise the money

The Councilman expects to sit down with the two police chiefs — Michael Carnevafe in the Borough and Jack Petrone in the Township - to get their reaction to a joint force. "They are the best resources for the pros and cons," he said

Mr. Freda said that now was the time to think about a consolidation of the departments. Both are crammed for space, he said, and the Township is looking at a possible new building for the police.

The Borough, meanwhile, is seriously considering an expansion of Borough Hall. "If a new facility is built, using Borough and Township money, that could house a joint department, Borough Hall would not need to be expanded, just renovated,' said Mr. Freda.

Township Deputy Mayor and Police Commissioner Phyllis Marchand said she welcomes looking at the idea of combining the Township and Borough police forces.

Andrew Shechtel of Montadale Circle told Committee that the bike path is "essential." Mr. Shechtel said there are 40 the lots were subdivided children living in the four residential areas accessed via Crestview Drive, and the bike path would be of considerable benefit to those homeowners as well as to other Township residents walking and biking in the general vicinity. This prompted Naomi Pierce, 243 Cherry Hill Road, to suggest that these homeowners ought to contribute to the cost.

"This is an expensive proiect." Ms. Pierce said, "and it will be disastrous to those who live close to the road." She said she was concerned about loss of property value if the trees are cut down, exposing her house to the traffic on the road. One resident asked for a lower speed limit on Cherry Hill Road, another asked if the bike path could be placed on the other side of the road.

Still another asked if the bike path would make busing unnecessary. Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser said there were problems and equally close houses on the other side of the road. Mayor Kate Litvack said Route 206 at the bottom of the hill would probably continue to make Cherry Hill Road residents eligible for hazardous route busing.

From the Governor's Desk

by Jim Florio

The past few weeks have been an historic time for New Jersey. We ended a decade in which middle class people paid more than their fair share and we began to do the things that will make New Jersey a better place to live in the '90s and into the 21st century.

We passed the largest property tax relief program in the history of New Jersey. And we changed an unfair income tax system where families in the middle struggling to make ends meet on $50,000, were paying the same rate as millionaires.

We did a lot, all at once, and we've gotten a lot of questions from people. That's understandable. I'd like to deal here with two of the most commonly asked.

Will I pay higher state income taxes?

For about eight of 10 taxpayers the answer is no. If you are married or the single head of a household, and your income is $70,000 or less, you won't pay any more in income taxes. If you're single, and earn $35,000 or less, the same is true.

After that, income taxes go up gradually, with the largest burden falling on those most able to pay. Our state's wealthiest citizens - families making more than $150,000, and single people with more than a $75,000 income - will pay a top rate of 7 percent.

Three-quarters of the $1.2 billion we are raising will come from people earning over $100,000. That's consistent with a philosophy of fairness I think we all share. For too long, the wealthy in New Jersey have contributed less than they can, leaving it to the middle class to pay the freight.

Incidentally, every penny we raise from the income tax will go to reduce property taxes. Again, most of the property tax relief is targeted on the middle class.

Will t get my Homestead Rebate? This year, every homeowner and tenant will get their rebate. It will come in the mail this fall, a little later than usual. The delay is due to the serious financial problems we faced this year, Problems we finally resolved with the passage of a new, balanced budget in June.

Next year we're going to make some changes that will bring more property tax relief to people who need it most the middle class.

Any family or single person with an income of less than $100,000 a year will get a rebate. If your income is between $70,000 and $100,000, you're guaranteed $100. If it's $70,000 or less, you're eligible for a rebate of up to $500. That's what I mean by help for the middle class.

Here's how it works: If your property tax exceeds 5 percent of your taxable income, you get the difference, up to $500. If your property tax doesn't exceed 5 percent, you'll still get Renters also qualify. There will be a rebate of $35 for those earning between $70,000 and $100,000. Since they don't directly pay property taxes, 18 percent of their rent is considered their property tax share. If that share is more than five percent of their income those earning $70,000 or less will also get every penny back, up to $500. Even if that rental share is not live percent of their income, renters under the $70,000 income level will still get $65.

I think this is a fairer system. It gives a bigger break to people in Cape Cod houses than those who live in mansions. It's another way we can ease the burden on middle class

Take a moment to figure out where you will stand. There's an excellent chance that, between property tax relief and the fairer income tax rates, most people reading this article will come out alread. That's the way it should be.

You work hard for your money. And, because you deserve a dollar's worth of value for every dollar you send to Trenton, 1 cut $2 billion in spending before 1 signed the state budget last month. It's why I'm cracking down on state cars, telephone credit cards, rail passes and other bureaucratic waste and melficiency.

These are steps we need to put New Jersey on sound fiscal footing, so we can remain a state of opportunity. They're based on the same common sense values we use to run our families: You don't spend what you don't have; and you only ask people to contribute their fair share. No more, No less, put from a bikeways commit-tec. She invited the Cherry Hill residents and residents of Montadale Circle and Crestview Drive to become involved by calling the Township Clerk and leaving their names.

Conversion of Sewer Plant

In other business, Committee agreed to proceed with plans to convert the troubled Pretty Brook sewer treatment plant into a pumping station. It was pointed out that $25,000 had already been spent for preliminary design and $200,000 had been set aside in the 1990 capital budget for this purpose.

In addition, Committee learned that developer Sanford Nalitt would pay for the sewer line connection to his Ettl Farm development sooner rather than later, thus relieving the Township of an additional $100,000 cost.

Committee also adopted amendments to the Township land use code pertaining to historic preservation. One amendment expands the definition of historic features to include gates, gate posts, gateways, accessory structures and windmills. Another abolishes the joint review by the Historie Sites Commission and the Site Plan Review Advisory Board of site plans in an historic district

This process proved to be unwicldy when the Calton Homes application was considered, and the change in the ordinance would allow each body to conduct its own separate hearing make specific recommendations to the Planning or Zoning Board.

Shoplifters at WaWa

Borough police report three shoplifting incidents - all at the WaWa Store on lower University Place.

The most recent occurred at 2 Tuesday morning. Two sisters from the Borough, 13 and 16, and a 15-year-old visitor from California were seen putting candy in their pockets. The three were stopped as they tried to leave the store.

Police, called to the scene, found candy and bubble gum and similar items worth a combined $8.10 in the pockets of all three. They were taken to headquarters and later released to the mother of the sisters.

The previous morning at 2:35, Michael Loff, 21, of Linden Lane was arrested and charged with shoplifting snack and candy items valued at $3.84. He was observed putting the items in a pocket of his jean jacket by an employee who called police. Later released, Loff is scheduled to appear Monday in Borough court.

Two days earlier, a suspect was seen drinking $1.40 worth of soda and then leaving the store without paying.

"We have a suspect, a homeless person," said Capt. Thomas Michaud. Store officials, he said, are undecided about whether to press charges.

A Superior Court Judge in Trenton last week allowed a sample of blood to be taken cause the assailant wore a ski from Gerald Geffrard, who has mask. been accused of the June 7 stabbing of a Princeton Township resident.

Superior Court Judge Richard J.S. Barlow approved a request from the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office. Authorities want to determine if blood stains lound on a shirt that police say the 21-year-old Geffrard was wearing when he allegedly stabbed the victim in the abdomen and arm in her Oakland Road home while she was taking a shower, match his blood type or that of the victim.

Police found the bloodstained shirt inside the suspect's home on Witherspoon tane where he lives with his family. According to Assistant Prosecutor Edward C. Bertucio Jr., DNA testing will determine if the suspect's blood matches that on the shirt.

Police investigators also found an 11-inch hunting knife with traces of blood on it in a backyard next to the Geffrard home. That blood specimen is also being tested. Such tests, Mr. Bertucio said, could take months to complete.

The previous day, Judge Barlow had refused a request by defense attorney Gerard Council to have Geffrard's $75,000 cash bail lowered, ruling the defense had presented no new evidence. Since his arrest, Geffrard has been held in the Mercer County Detention Center in lieu of bail.

Initially, bail had been set at $50,000 but was raised to $75,000 at Geffrard's arraignment at the request of Mercer County Prosecutor Paul T. A New Audience

Having never been to Mercer County Park - like many Princeton residents - she said she was pleasantly surprised hy how spacious it was, hy the lake and the trees, the parking and the amenities. There were plenty of Princeton residents who found their way to the park for the concert, she says, and in addition the event drew a new group, people who had never heard the New Jersey Symphony before.

Ms. Leach says everyone pus was "very friendly, very cooperative and in a nice holiday mood." Suggestions for next year include trying to sell more tickets in advance to ease the crowding at the gate; starting the concert carlier and having the fireworks begin just as it gets dark rather than waiting until it is eompletely dark; and providing a shuttle from the parking aren to the picnic loca-

Ms. Grammer said that taking part in the planning and organization in return for some scholnrship funds had been beneficial for Westminster Conservatory. She said she had gotten parents involved as well as some of those who had received financial assistance in the past, and Westminster itself hecame better known as a result. She also spoke of the benefits of a new audience at the concert, which in turn imparted a sense of community for the greater Princeton area.

'Music is something to be shared," she said, "and so is our Independence Day heritage."

While it is still not entirely clear how the formula induces weight loss, some scientists believe this compound actually alters the way the body digests food: when taken before mealtime it bonds with food and suppresses calorie food and suppresses caloric absorption. Unabsorbed calo-ries would pass through and out of the digestive system.

Review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

In addition, Mr. Nalitt has said he is willing to construct at the outset the gravity sewer line which he will eventually need for the 55 lots that require 208 Water Quality Management Plan approval. Smyth lived on Nassau Street (the park abutted his rear yard) and Fitzy lived across the street on Evelyn Place.

Leitch was a standout baskethall player at Princeton High in the 1960s for coach Tony Borzok. At the time, Leitch was something of a rebel, inwardlooking. Today, outgoing at 43, he is a classic example of those whose lives have turned around 180 degrees.

After teaching the emotionally-handicapped in New York ("if you can believe it, in Hell's Kitchen") Leitch this year graduated from Harvard University Divinity School. He will serve his internship in Winehester, Mass, and be ordained next June. Absolutely amazing.

Fitzy was fun-loving. When he played for the HAC flag football team, he weighed 225, had a couple of chins and an ample waistline. He would be hard to recognize today

His running curtailed by an injury, Fitzy, now 45 and a sales rep, has taken up rowing with the Carnegie Lake Rowing Association. "It's great," he said, a still-trim 173. Absolutely amazing, Smyth, at one time, was a rebel, too. Long hair, long beard, but from the beginning he had an ability to organize. That ability was the glue that held the HAC together.

On reunion day, one of the events was a seven-inning softball game, organized, of course, by Smyth - as was the whole reunion right down to the Harrison A.C. 1960-1990 T-shirts. Said he,"I had the oldtimers on one team - my team - and the younger ones on the other." With an infield comprised of lawyer Doug Hoffman at first, Smyth at second, Jimmy Case (in the construction business in Freehold) at short and Fitzy at third, the "oldtimers" jumped out to an early lead and won going away, 22-

He holds the record for one of the longest punts in the State - 72 yards from the line of scrimmage. At 50, Riddick is still solid and powerful; he looks as if he could still step onto the field and hit the line for yardage.

Thirty years younger, Mike Riddick has the same solid, oak-hewn stature as his father. For three years (1984 through '86), Mike was a tailback and linebacker for the PHS football team, leading the Little Tigers to the State playoffs his senior year. Today, at 230 pounds, he is a junior at Bucknell and an outside linebacker for the Bisons. He carries a steel pin in his leg from an injury which sidelined him for a year. Mike, like his father, was a threeletter performer in sports in high school.

Smyth reported that when the HAC football team would play, there was little Mike, as a baby, playing on a blanket on the sidelines.

Will there be another HAC reunion? "We will convene again," Smyth insists. "We would like to see each other more frequently than once every 25 years."

Outside Consultant Should Oversee Asbestos Removal

To the Editor of Town Topics: The following is a copy of a letter sent to Dr. Carol Choye and Members of the Princeton Regional School Board regarding the Board's response to parents' requests for an independent consultant to oversee asbestos abatement work currently under way at Littlebrook and Princeton High schools.

As the parent of a Princeton High School student, I am deeply distressed by your decision to hire an oversight consultant for the asbestos abatement work at Littlebrook, but not at the High School. There was some suggestion that if a problem is discovered at Littlebrook; then the High School would be checked also. The amount of asbestos being removed from the High School is many times greater than that at Littlebrook. Clearly, there is a much greater likelihood of problems at the High School. Why don't the occupants of the High School merit the same protection being given those at Littlebrook?

Why is the consultant not allowed to observe the air testing, or double-check the cleanup until the barriers are down and the contractors have quit the work site? At that point the practical and financial obstacles to correcting any deficiencies would be enor-

I believe this resistance to the legitimate concerns of informed parents stems in part from thoroughly cleaned up now, the a lack of experience with the asbestos removal industry. If you listen to those who do know

No Parking at Palmer To the Editor of Town Topics:

This is a strong letter in support of Pauline W. Egan's letter in the June 27th edition of TOWN TOPICS opposing the proposed construction of a 44-car parking lot on the grounds of Palmer House.

As chairman of the Princeton Township Housing Board for the past five years, I am very conscious of the importance of maintaining a balance between open space and housing as well as between parking and parks. When grass becomes a parking lot, it is gone forever.

Palmer House is a unique treasure. Its integrity is a precious part of Princeton and should not be traded for 44

It is not too late. Work at the High School will continue well into July. I hope other parents - and teachers and staff - will read this and add their voices to mine. More Hunts Are Needed To Thin Deer Population

To the Editor of Town Topics: The residents of western and other areas of Princeton, parts of Lawrenceville, et cetera need relief from the ongoing onslaught of proliferating deer.

Aside from the defoliation of prized shrubs, the major problem is the accidents generated by freely roving deer and the growing incidence of getting bitten by ticks that carry terrible Lyme disease.

This noon on Brookstone Drive, two small deer ran in opposite directions as 1 stopped my car and then very slowly moved ahead. I have had upsetting near-accidents on Province Line Road and elsewhere. So have many others.

Sturhahn, Dickenson & Bernard NSURANCE SPECIALISTS 14 Nassau St. • 921-6880 NOT CHECK THE CHECK THE THE CHECK TH Tierney Tells Hopkins 'No'

Princeton University's lacrosse program has cleared another major hurdle, this time by what didn't happen rather than what did.

Its three-year coach Bill Tierney has weighed a lucrative and prestigious offer to coach at his alma mater, Johns Hopkins, and turned it down. His departure would have been a huge setback for the sport here.

Since he left an assistant coaching post with the Blue Jays three years ago to come here, Tierney has turned the onceoncedowntrodden program into a contender for the NCAA championship. Under his guidance, the Tigers went from a 2-13 mark in 1988 to 6-8 a year later, and then 11-5 this past spring. In May, the Orange and Black received its first ever bid to the NCAA Tournament, and then upset Johns Hopkins in the opening round.

Tierney's recruiting efforts have paid off hand-somely, and next fall's freshmen may be the best group yet. Nine standout players, including five high school all-Americans, will join a talented returning bunch of sophomores, juniors and seniors. The best appears to be Scott Bacigalupo, an outstanding goalie that Tierney plucked right out of Hopkins backyard in Baltimore.

In rejecting Hopkins' offer, Tierney had many reasons: a sense of wanting to finish the job he started, and a family of a wife and four children (two sons and two daughters) that had already moved five times in 12 years.

However, he also had a strong sense of loyalty to the players he had recruited for Princeton. Players like Bacigalupo, who, like Tierney, could have gone to Hopkins, and gotten a free tuition ride in doing so.

Engine No. 3 Champs In PYBA Tournament

Engine No. 3, the regular season champions in the Princeton Youth Baseball Association's minor league with an 11-2-1 record, also claimed the league's double-loss, post-scason elimination tournament last month

Engine No. 3 won the tourney when it defeated Pediatric Group, 17-9, in the championship game at Community Park. Adam Staats led Enginc No. 3 wth three hits and four runs batted in. Michael Kopley and Kurt Soderberg each scored three runs, while Nelly DeLeon and Rip Rice combined to drive in five runs.

Winning pitcher Jeff Mapps allowed five hits and drove in Engine No. 3 had forced the championship rubber match when it came from behind earlier to defeat Pediatric Group, 6-4. The victors got off to a shaky start when they committed six errors to allow Pediatric to score all its runs in the first inning.

Engine No. 3 got three runs back in the second on a two-run single by Walsh and an RBI single by Ryan Bahoshy. Two innings later, Walsh tied it at four with his RBI single and then Tyler Potts connected for a two-run triple to plate the winning runs.

Bahoshy had a big game for the victors. As the winning pitcher he struck out nine and yielded just two hits. At the plate he was two-for-two with two runs scored and one run

In the tournament's opening round, Enginc No. 3 stopped PBA 130, 11-2, behind Matt Hankin's grand slam and the hitting of Walsh, Potts and Mapps. Bahoshy fanned 12 and allowed three hits, in getting the win.

In its next start, Engine No. 3 was knocked into the losers' bracket when it was defeated, 11.6 by Pediatric Group. Michael Cortese's three-run homer accounted for half of the losers' runs Engine No. 3, however, managed to stay alive and advance to the championship round after it defeated PBA again, 17-7.

Walsh belted a pair of triples to drive in five runs; Bahoshy sent five more runs across with a pair of doubles; and Hankin, Mapps and Potts each drove in two runs in the rout. Winning pitcher Staats surrendered four hits, while Rip Rice in relief fanned six PBA batters.

Princetonians Are Cited For Sports Contributions

Several Princeton area residents, students at colleges and universities around the country, have been cited for contributions to spring sports

Chris McCabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McCabe, 315 Herrontown Road, helped the University of Vermont lacrosse team post a 9-5 record, its best in four years. McCabe, who was elected one of the team's tricaptains for next year, recorded a .646 save percentage and a 9.63 goals-against average as the starting goalie for the Catamounts. The save percentage posted by the junior was third best in the nation.

The Lords completed the year with an overall record of 7-6, and fourth-place finish in the North Coast Athletic Conference. One of the highlights of the season was the 10-8 triumph over Ohio State.

Bland, a co-captain, scored 33 goals and added four assists for 37 points during the 1990 season, helping to lead his team to the ECAC Division III New England men's lacrosse title.
